Just Transition Working Group – Tuesday, November 17, 2020

The Just Transition Working Group (JTWG) reconvened for its fourth meeting on November 17. State staff gave a brief overview of the tasks, scope of work and schedule of the business impacts subgroup, which is comprised of the working group and the Energy-Intensive and Trade-Exposed (EITE) Panel members. The subgroup reported out on its work on a definition and adoption of metrics to identify EITEs in New York State. They aim to share their findings December 2020/January 2021. The JTWG also received a presentation from Professor Greg Dotson (University of Oregon) on emissions leakage and updates on the job study consultancy and power plant and reuse subgroup from state staff. Further updates will be provided at the working group's next meeting on December 3. Presentations and notes from Advisory Panels and Working Groups meetings can be found here.
